

National Public Safety Telecommunicators Week April 14-20, 2024

About

NPSTW

Every year during the second week of April, the telecommunications personnel in the public safety community, are honored. This week-long event, initially set up in 1981 by Patricia Anderson of the Contra Costa County Sheriff's Office in California, is a time to celebrate and thank those who dedicate their lives to serving the public. It is a week that should be set aside so everyone can be made aware of their hard work and dedication.

We encourage all of you to celebrate and honor yourselves, your co-workers, your bosses and your employees. Host a party, reach out to your local media and public officials, or launch an awards program. Use the tools and suggestions on this blog to help you make National Public Safety Telecommunicators Week 2023 a memorable one for you and your colleagues.

Thank you, again, for all the sacrifices you make to create a better and safer world for the public. Your commitment to your profession is appreciated by all of APCO International, the public safety communications community, and the citizens you serve.

This week's for you!

ABOUT NPSTW

NPSTW was originally established by Patricia Anderson of the Contra Costa County Sheriff's Office in California in 1981. The purpose of the week is to celebrate and show thanks and appreciation for all those individuals who serve the public through public safety communications. This can be a great time to honor your co-workers, supervisors, management, and employees, and all the work they do day in and day out.

We encourage you to use this week to celebrate and honor all those in your center!
